DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gilson (US 6,599,681).

Gilson discloses a transparent base (22), a transparent antirust layer (23) made of tin oxide, or silver formed on one of the surface of the base, a metal mesh layer (24) formed on the antirust layer and having lines defining openings (Fig 1b), wherein the antirust layer extends over parts of the base corresponding to both the lines and the openings

Re claim 2, the lines of the metal layer have a width in the range of 5-25 microns (less than 0.002 inch)(.002 inches = 50 microns)(col. 5, lines 18-20) and are arranged at pitches in the range of 150 to 500 microns (005-0.1 inches = 127- 2540 microns)(col. 5, lines 18-20).

Re claim 3, a blacken layer is formed on one of the surfaces of the metal layer (col. 3, lines 21-25).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gilson.

The teaching of Gilson as discussed above does not disclose additional antitrust layer.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include additional antitrust layer with the structure of Gilson for the purpose of reducing optical distortion, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Prior Art

De 1931200 A teaches the thin film made of tin oxide which inhibit the formation of rust.
